DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR SURVEYOR OF OHIO COUNTY.

John B. Wilson.

The office of State Inspector and Examiner was created by the Legislature before adjournment. The duty of said officer will be to examine the various State offices and report their condition.

The charter for the Hartford branch railroad passed both Houses of the Legislature. We will publish full plans of this charter as soon as we can secure same. So far as we understand the matter, it seems to be a feasible plan to get a road. The Havesville and Pellville Mineral Road would come to this place then, giving Hartford the benefit of competition at once.

COL. McCARTY, of the Jessamine Journal, endorses Hon. A. E. Stevenson for Vice President. He says of him:

"A born Kentuckian, educated at Center College, married to a Kentucky wife, a Democrat par excellence, a man of the people, sprung from the ranks, not born to the purple, of large and comprehensive views of public policy, filling the Jeffersonian requirement of honesty and capacity, we hope our State Democratic Convention will instruct her delegates to the National Convention to cast the vote of Kentucky for him for the Vice Presidential nomination."

The day before the Legislature adjourned was disgraced by scenes in the House of which the gentlemen composing that body should be heartily ashamed. One man swore at another. The Speaker nor Sergeant at Arms could quell him; others shouted themselves hoarse. Bedlam would have been tranquilly compared to the House of Representatives. The most that can be said of this Legislature is that they drew their per diem promptly.

BEFORE the Legislature adjourned, it passed a bill making the salary of Circuit Judges $5,000 per year. This was a good move, and now when we get a new constitution it should provide that special judges receive the same salary per day as the regular judge and the pay to come out of the regular judges salary. The State is taxed thousands of dollars every year for special judges, while the regular judge draws his salary the same as if he was at work.

OUR double number of last week was not large enough to accommodate the matter that came to this office, hence several communications appear on our first page this week. We dislike to hold news letters over, but are forced to do so at times. Brevity is a great gift in newspaper work, and the editor has much trouble trying to put four columns of matter in one column of space, while at the same time the majority of people think a newspaper is glad to get anything to fill space. News is what is wanted.

If we mistake not, about 4 years ago the statement was made by every Republican in these United States that "it would never do to elect a Democratic President, for if we did, there would be no more pensions for Union soldiers, but instead, those who were the gray would be the favored ones." Now, let's see how that is panning out, by taking the pensions granted to Union soldiers of Kentucky in a single day last week. On last Thursday there were 39 pensions granted to Union soldiers, and of course not a single man who wore the gray has even asked for a pension; nor would he receive it should he ask. Besides this, we can name nearer home, and cite you a man for every day last week in this county who had the glad tidings brought to him that he had been allowed a pension, and that, too, by a Democratic administration. We give the list in Ohio county for the past week: Porter Hudson and G. C. Westerfield, Hartford; J. W. Nicholson, Buford; Henry Baize, Select; Kinchen Martin, Horton; Thomson Russell, Pleasant Ridge. Now to those denegative Republicans who were bidding for votes on the plea of non-recognition should we have Democratic rule, we say, put this in your pipe and smoke it.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Republican State Convention met in Louisville last week, and from the reports published in the city dailies all was not "quiet on the Potomac." Mr. E. P. Neal, of this county, an honor seldom conferred on a man so young, and the Commercial says that he wielded the gavel with a mighty hand. Some few who wanted the temporary chairmanship to go another way, tried to stampede Neal's force, but it was no go. Our young man from Ohio county held his well-earned ground until the proper time to vacate. Col. A. M. Swope was vanquished when the Convention instructed for Bradley for Vice-President. Ohio county was honored again by the selection of C. M. Pendleton as a delegate to the National Republican Convention at Chicago. The Convention made the following instructions:

For Vice President—Wm. O. Bradley of Kentucky.
Delegate-at-Large—William O. Bradley, Geo. H. Thomas, George Denny. One delegate-at-large and the alternates are to be elected today.
First District—Neil S. Allison, Dr. W. J. Seboe.
Second District—Geo. W. Jolly, E. W. Glass.
Third District—W. S. Taylor, E. W. Fordyce.
Fourth District—Judge John Thompson, C. M. Pendleton.
Fifth District—A. E. Wilson, W. P. Hampton.
Sixth District—John Ernst, Dr. J. N. Wilson.
Seventh District—W. C. Goodloe, Louis Lebus.
Eighth District—Judge James Bennett, Logan McKee.
Ninth District—J. L. Patterson, W. A. Warford.
Tenth District—D. G. Colson, Z. T. Hurst.
Eleventh District—Gen. E. H. Holston, W. M. Jones.

Of course that great body of men resolved almost everything past, present and to come and denounced the Democracy of Kentucky in strong terms because there was one rascal, Tate, found in its ranks. That our readers may know the policy of the Republican party in this State, we give their platform in full as adopted by the Convention:

"We, the representatives of the Republican party in Kentucky, in convention assembled, proud of the record of the past and anxious for the future success, unite in the following declaration of principles:

"First—We endorse the principles of the Republican party as enunciated in the platform of the National Convention of 1888.

"Second—Its history, of which we are justly proud, is one of fidelity to the best interests of the nation, and a guarantee of what may be expected in the future.

"Third—We demand fair and free elections and condemn the practice of the Democratic party by which Republican votes are violently and fraudulently suppressed and rendered of no effect.

"Fourth—The Republican party stand pledged to the protection of American labor and American industries.

"Fifth—We emphatically condemn a resort to violence as a remedy for grievances, we recognize the fact that the laborer, as well as the possessor of capital, is entitled to protection, it should be the duty of our lawmakers to afford redress of grievances so far as reason and experience shall dictate the way.

"Sixth—We believe that the sentiment of the people should rule on all moral questions.

"Seventh—We consider Federal aid to the public schools distributed in proportion to the literacy of the State as one of vital importance to the welfare of the nation.

"Eighth—We denounce the action of President Cleveland in vetoing the dependent pension bill. We are in favor of fair and liberal pensions to all honorably discharged Union soldiers of the late war.

"Ninth—The Democratic party of Kentucky stands confessedly guilty of incapacity and corruption in the management of the monetary affairs of the State and by concealing and suppressing the investigation of officials endeavoring to be worthy of the confidence and trust of the people of our State.

"Tenth—That the district delegates from the State of Kentucky are hereby instructed to vote for President of the United States, as large as hereby instructed and directed to cast their votes in the National Convention for the Hon. John Sherman, of Ohio, for nomination for President of the United States, so long as his name is before said convention.

"Eleventh—Recognizing in Hon. William O. Bradley, of Kentucky, a suitable man for Vice President of the United States, we hereby instruct the delegates from this convention to vote for him for the nomination to that position by the National Convention at Chicago, and to recommend our delegates to use all honorable means to advance his interest.

"We endorse the action of the Republican representatives from this State to Congress in their support of the bill to return to the States the money paid under the direct tax to support the war for the Union and condemn the action of the Democratic representatives from this State for their opposition to said measure."

The tenth and eleventh sections were met by a strong opposition. A minority report was offered.

"Recognizing in W. O. Bradley, of Kentucky, a suitable man for the position of Vice President of the United States, and an able representative of the Republican element of the South, we hereby instruct the delegates from this convention to vote for him at said convention for the Vice Presidential nomination, and use all honorable means to advance his interest for that position. The minority indorse the platform except so far as it pertains to the instructions for President, the minority favoring an instruction for W. O. Bradley alone, leaving the delegates to the National Convention untrammelled as to the Presidential nomination, relying on their judgment to work for the best interests of the country."

After a hard fight of more than one hour, the minority report was carried, and the Kentucky delegation goes to the Chicago Convention uninstructed for President. After much speech-making and a vast deal of effete eloquence, the convention adjourned, feeling no doubt that Kentucky was as strongly Democratic as ever.

FOR SURVEYOR.

Mr. John B. Wilson was nominated Saturday as the Democratic candidate for surveyor. The race was between him and Mr. LaDruce Barnett. Very few knew that either one was a candidate before the day of the convention. Mr. Wilson had been solicited by his many friends to make the race. Mr. Barnett, for the time he was in the field, had a fine following. Mr. Wilson has been personally known to us for several years and it is with confidence in his ability to fill the office well, that we heartily endorse his candidacy. He has proven his fidelity to Democratic principles in more ways than one. The party has made no call on him to which he has not responded. He is a young man well worthy the confidence and suffrage of the people of Ohio county, and if elected will fill this office in a satisfactory manner.

MUCH to the gratification of the people of this Commonwealth, the Legislature adjourned Friday at midday. Great measures have by no means characterized that body of lawmakers. School boy debates are more decorous than many of the resolutions of either House. A lack of leadership and a desire to "show his own row" independent of everything and everybody, caused the majority of the members from doing much good for themselves or anybody else. That there were a few good men in the Legislature no man can deny but their intentions and endeavors were thwarted by that class who came to draw their per diem, and stay all summer. Gov. Buckner is due the everlasting thanks of the people of Kentucky for his judicious use of the veto power. The legislators go home to render an account to the people and it is to be hoped they will receive at their hands only the justice they desire.

ROCKFORD.
Uncle George Danks has been awarded a pension.
Mrs. Alice Henson and son Master Hubert have gone to Lyon county to spend the summer.
A party of twenty-five young ladies and gentlemen from that popular neighborhood went to that spot on Sunday. They stayed the night and had a delightful trip.
If I were handsome E. P. Neal, temporary chairman of the Republican convention recently held in Louisville, I'd sue the Comer-Journal all over for slander. His picture which appeared in the issue of the 3rd inst., would take all the credit out of a Comedian, if it did not curl his hair with disgust. It looked like the pot metal out of a condemned anarchist. The colored delegate's cut looked like a Banquet statue beside it. But the most interesting feature among these cuts was the "delicate" one of E. P. Neal. He looked as if above all things he should be allowed to say just who he was. President of the U. S. and what is so funny and remarkable about it is that he is recognized by his own party as a "delicate" man. Several in this senatorial district have seen the original. The artist was very accurate in sketching the features of the "delicate" man. As for Neal's picture, his most intimate friends do not recognize him. I don't know what he could ever have done to the C. J. that it should take such a vengeance. "Of all the drops in bottles corked, in stone-wares, glass or silver, there's not a fluid that exerts black ink-ecological liquor."

Neal should consider himself however, in the fact that "every human heart must be swept with some dew of sorrow to humanize it," and a human heart may as well be swept with a heart-rendering newspaper cut as by something worse.
That king of journalists, Henry Waterson, says the Republican party in convention assembled at Louisville was a "hellish ghost on an endless jangle."

Mr. Jake Anthony was elected Police Judge Saturday, and Messrs. S. A. Jackson, L. F. Gibbs, Henry Woodburn, J. T. Carter and L. G. Haden, Trustees.
Messrs. Bennett and Hartford commenced series of meetings here Sunday evening.
Two gentlemen are visiting Mr. J. M. London's family, but I'm sorry to say that I was unable to learn their names.

ABBEVILLE.
May 6, 1888.
Morrie, the little six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lindley of near Pleasant Hill church, died Friday, after a long illness, of pneumonia. His funeral was preached by Rev. Thomas Stevens, in the church immediately before he was laid quietly to rest in the churchyard in the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives. The grief-stricken parents have the sympathy of this entire community in this bereavement.

Miss Lila Cox returned home Sunday from Lewis Station, where she taught a successful three month's school. Mr. Ed. E. Taylor and Mr. W. L. Smith and wife, of near Green River, spent a part of the past week with the family of Mr. A. A. Rowan. Miss Florence Rowan returned home Sunday from a visit to her grand father near Green River. Mr. Edson and Miss Mary Williams, no Creek, visited at S. B. Askey's Saturday and Sunday. Mr. L. E. Charlet visited friends in Grayson county last week. Miss Sallie Hoover spent last week with relatives at Livermore. Rev. S. B. Ryan, of near Green River, visited friends here last week.
Rev. D. J. K. Maddox filled his regular appointment here Saturday and Sunday. He was listened to with interest, and as he very ably discussed his appropriate texts.
Uncle Joe Crow of color, who lives near here, and who has been for some time in very feeble health, is one hundred and one years old.

VIEWING THE PROMISED LAND.

Squatters on the Ground Awaiting the Opening of an Indian Reservation. (Chicago Tribune.)

GREAT FALLS, Mont. News of the coming of the Black Foot Reservation is awaited impatiently here and throughout Northern Montana. A large number of persons have gone to the reservation to locate ranches, mines and town sites. The desirable valleys are fairly covered with tents, the greatest rush apparently being to the Big Sandy, the famous hay grounds. Soldiers as well as civilians are on the grounds, and when the news comes that the bill is signed there is likely to be a rush. Bullhook Valley, beyond Fort Assiniboine, is all staked off, and the tents of the squatter may be seen all along the valley of the Milk River. There is a silver lode in the Bear Paw Mountains that was located several years ago. It is understood that several parties are on hand watching the locality as well as to prospect for others.

[The President has now signed the bill throwing open for settlement the Indian Reservation in Montana.—Ed.]

A Popular Town.

It is surprising the number of railroads that are trying to make their way to Forsville, Ohio county. Who knows but what J. Gould may yet turn his attention to Forsville?

BEAVER DAM.
May 7, 1888.
Gordon Taylor died at the home of his mother, Mrs. Ellen J. Taylor, three miles south of Beaver Dam, on yesterday at 2:30 o'clock p. m. after a painful illness of one week. Gordon was an amiable, prudent, young man, and had specially attracted the attention of the writer on account of his manly bearing. His father, Capt. R. E. Taylor died nearly ten years ago, since which time the care and training of the children has devolved upon the mother, and sad, sad is the bereavement to her, to see her only son, her last joy, just reaching manhood, taken away. The family have the sympathy of many friends.

Mrs. Weaver Hooker departed this life on Tuesday last at her home near Providence Church. She leaves a husband, several children to mourn her loss. She was a good and highly respectable woman.

Preaching.
[Oakesboro News.]
The Hartford Herald had to issue a double number yesterday to accommodate a theological discussion and the advertisers. Business and preaching seem to be prospering in Ohio county.

OLATON.
May 4, 1888.—Farmers are about through planting corn. Oats do not look very promising; the recent cold weather has had an injurious effect on oats and almost every thing.
A lunatic has recently made his reappearance in this community and has threatened the lives of a number of the best citizens of Ohio and Grayson counties, and has tried to hire persons to kill several individuals. Has threatened to burn the Court House and jail at Hartford. This unfortunate individual was tried for lunacy several years ago in Hartford and was released for want of evidence and through legal technicalities. The laws of this Commonwealth ought to protect the citizens of the State in life, peace and property.

A Good Paper.
[Kentucky Progress.]
The Herald comes forth this week with a new dress and a double number. Its columns are filled with select reading matter and it is one among the best printed papers in the State. The mammoth "ads" speak well for the Herald and the business men of Hartford.

Election Notice.
By virtue of an order of court this day made, I hereby make known that on Monday, 6th day of August, 1888, regular August election, a poll will be opened at each voting precinct in Ohio county for the purpose of electing a County Surveyor to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Charles Hendrie.
